Commercial premises for sale (freehold) â€” turnkey office with contemporary design, furniture, and equipment included. This is not a business transfer (traspaso), but a full sale of the property (compraventa). The unique appeal of this offer is that you are not buying just the space, but a fully equipped, ready-to-operate workspace: the new owner can move in and start their business immediately, without any further investment in furniture or fitting-out. The offer is attractive both for those launching their own business and for investors: the premises can be rented out for commercial use, where rental yields are higher than those of residential property. The office is located in La Mata,...(Ask for More Details!)
