Wow! Location ! Location! Location! The 360 views from this property can only be described as breathtaking! Located in the countryside of El Chorro, Álora famous for the iconic Caminito del Rey, this property offers just under 2 hectares (19,320m²) of beautiful Andalusian countryside within which is traditional country house of 78m². The land is planted out with olives, almonds, figs and carob trees and also hosts it's very own rockface already equipped with climbing points! The traditional country house currently consists of three rooms plus a former outside kitchen plus 2 outbuildings. It does need extensive reformation but is legally registered as a house.
